Tre Voci Trio

Violin, Cello and Piano

The chamber music group whose name signifies "Three Voices" has been performing together since 1995. The members are violinist Rodica Gonzalez, cellist Jeffrey Butler, and pianist Ilgin Aka.

November 17, 2013

Chris McGuire

Classical Guitar

American guitarist Christopher McGuire commands the many expressive qualities of the guitar with what one critic called unselfconscious intensity. His engaging performance style invites people of all ages to feel they are taking part, not just taking a seat.

January 19, 2014

Kathryn Findlen

Mezzo Soprano

Mezzo Soprano Kathryn Findlen's collaborations place her at the forefront of new American concert repertoire. She has worked with Pulitzer Prize winning composers John Corigliano, John Harbison and Robert Ward, bringing their pieces to life on the concert stage.

February 16, 2014

Kirsten Yon

Violin

Violinist Kirsten Yon is currently in residence at the University of Houston where she is Associate Professor of Violin. Past engagements include serving as Associate Professor of Violin at Texas Tech University.

March 16, 2014

Christine Albert

Piano, guitar, accordion and upright bass

Christine Albert's French grandmother lived in Paris and her mother was born in Switzerland, so she was surrounded by the French language and culture throughout her childhood. In a Santa Fe high school French class she discovered the music of Edith Piaf and the sounds of a Parisian caf began to show up in the music of this country/folk singer-songwriter.

April 27, 2014

LoAn Lin

Pianist

Lo-An Lin was born in Taipei, Taiwan and started taking piano lessons at the age of five with En Wang. Since then, she has performed across the United States and abroad including recent recitals in Seoul National Arts Center of Korea, Taiwan's National Recital Hall, the Kennedy Center in Washington D.C. As a student of Hung-Kuan Chen, Lo-An Lin took home the Gold Medal and the prize for best performance of a Baroque work at the 2012 San Antonio International Piano Competition.
